67-YEAR-OLD MAN CONVICTED FOR MURDER OF 23-YEAR-OLD SUNSET PARK FATHER

Brooklyn District Attorney Ken Thompson today announced the conviction of a Brooklyn man, Juan Ramos, for the 2013 murder of a Giovanni Rodriguez-Arias. Following an argument, Ramos, 67, stabbed and killed the 23 year-old father, and stabbed a second victim who tried to resolve the dispute. Following a tip, police apprehended Ramos on the roof of a Sunset Park building. He faces up to 25 years in prison at sentencing.

District Attorney Ken Thompson said, "This defendant murdered a young father of two and now will spend most of the rest of his life behind bars."
