Job Description

The Kings County District Attorney's Office located in the Metrotech area of Brooklyn, New York, has an exciting opportunity to work as a Paralegal in the Appeals Bureau.

The Appeals Bureau is responsible for the litigation of the office's cases after conviction. That litigation includes responding to appeals filed by defendants in the Appellate Division, which is New York State's intermediate appellate court, and to the New York Court of Appeals, which is the State's highest court. The Appeals Bureau also prosecutes appeals by the District Attorney from certain adverse rulings by trial judges. The Appeals Bureau responds to defendants' habeas corpus petitions in federal district court and litigates appeals to the United States Court of Appeals for the Second Circuit. In addition, assistant district attorneys in the Appeals Bureau are often called upon to advise trial prosecutors regarding complex legal issues and to provide legal training to the office on a number of specialized topics.

Appeals Bureau Paralegals carry their own workload of felony plea briefs, misdemeanor trial briefs, excessive sentence motions, and other miscellaneous motions.

An Appeals Paralegal must provide support for the Assistant District Attorneys in the bureau, which includes:

- Locating documents both in and outside the Office
- Processing various procedural orders, drafting other letters and documents that may require research or analysis
- Accessing information in the electronic databases of various courts and government agencies
- Responding to requests for exhibits from appellate attorneys and answering Freedom of Information Law requests not being handled by the ADAs or other Appeals Bureau Paralegals. This responsibility includes handling the reproduction of legal records and trial exhibits.
